CHURCH STREET

CRUZAN WILL RESIGN.

Announces His Intention at Business Meeting of the Church.

At a business meeting of the congregation of the First Foreign Church last Tuesday evening, Rev. J. A. Cruzan, the Pastor gave notice of his intention to resign at a very early date. While coming somewhat unexpectedly, the matter is one that has been discussed quietly in Church circles for some time. The action was not altogether unstudied on the part of Mr. Cruzan himself. He has been aware of certain opposition in the congregation of the First Foreign Church and has felt that it would be a mere matter of time when his relations with the Hilo church would have to be severed.

The meeting Tuesday night was called for the purpose of canvassing the financial situation and taking the steps necessary to provide funds. In the discussions the opposition to Mr. Cruzan was so apparent that he arose and inquired if it was the purpose of that meeting to force the resignation of the pastor. A church official assured him that the purpose was quite different, the business being purely financial. Mr. Cruzan stated however that he would place his resignation as Pastor of First Foreign Church in the proper official hands within a very short time.

Hilo Railroad Co.

The annual meeting of the Hilo Railroad Company was held last Friday in the offices of Dillingham & Co. at Honolulu. The treasurer's report was very satisfactory. All expenses have been paid. The company's bonds have been consolidated under one mortgage and the sale of the same has been negotiated, placing the company on a sound financial basis. The Olau division is now practically finished and the company will now devote its attention to the waterfront extension and the establishing of an up-town depot. The main line will run from the present depot over the river which runs on the Waiakea side of Hilo and along the sea beach up to Waianuenue street. A side line will run up to the Wilder company's wharf and still another branch line will run up to the proposed new wharf. The building of these lines will necessitate the construction of two bridges crossing the river. Bids for them are now being received. These improvements will be of great advantage to Hilo. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, B. F. Dillingham; first vice president, Lorin A. Thurston; second vice president and auditor, M. P. Robinson; secretary, W. Van Valkenburg; and treasurer, E. E. Paxton. The above officers together with Henry Waterhouse, F. M. Hatch and W. F. Dillingham constitute the Board of Directors.

Overend Bound Over.

Judge Hapai rendered a decision Wednesday morning in the Case of Deputy Sheriff H. S. Overend, charged with assault with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life. The Court reviewed the testimony and the law in the case at length, binding the defendant over to the next regular grand jury.

The case arose from an encounter between the Deputy Sheriff and John Dixon on Waianuenue street in which the defendant struck Dixon with a policeman's club, breaking the club and felling Dixon to the side walk.

Overend was arrested on the above charge. The case was set before Judge Hapai. H. L. Ross of Wise & Ross prosecuting and C. F. LeBlond defending. The case was important because it served to establish along clear and definite lines the responsibilities of a police officer and the rights of citizens as well as their duties.

The defense claimed that a policeman's club was not an instrument obviously and imminently dangerous to life and that the deputy sheriff was acting in self defense. The Court would not be guided by the testimony of Sheriff Andrews and Dr. Stowe to the effect that a policeman's club is not a dangerous weapon. He also ruled that mere words, however offensive, directed to an officer, do not constitute an attack justifying such a display of force in return.

He observed that he was never able to get anything definite out of Sheriff Andrews.

THE STORM'S DAMAGE.

Gere of the Department of Public Works Takes Inventory.

G. H. Gere, representing the Department of Public Works, has spent a week on Hawaii investigating and scheduling the damage done by the late storm. He landed in the Hamakua District and made his way through the torn up roads to Hilo, arriving here the first of this week.

The cause of the immense amount of damage is discoverable in the history of the rain gauge one mile from Pauilo. Its record is 84.02 inches of precipitation in eight days. This heavy rainfall prevailed in much the same degree over the entire Hamakua slopes. Mr. Gere says that the forest fires last summer so stripped the country of timber that the water shed much more rapidly than it otherwise would. Hundreds of loose tree trunks and debris from the fires was carried by the flood down the gulches, giving the torrents the additional force of battering rams, which carried bridges, stone abutments and earth works before them. He describes the condition of the highways in that district as "dreadful." He was constantly in receipt of calls from all parts of the district where people were anxious for early repairs. An imperfect list of the damaged places is given. First he found three bad washouts on the Honokaa Landing road, which must be repaired by three bridges. On the main road at Pauilo gulch, where a 12 foot culvert existed before the rain, there is now a gap 50 feet long and 20 feet deep, requiring a bridge. At this place 75 feet of the road retaining wall was also washed away. At Lyman gulch East of Honokaa, a new bridge must be put in. A bad washout at Kalapa gulch will have to be bridged. The situation is the same at Waikaula bridge. The 12 foot arch culvert at Pauilo was partly carried away and will be fixed by a temporary trestle. Two small bridges are out on the Pauilo Landing road. Two miles this side of Pauilo, a 50 foot bridge must go in.

A short bridge must be put in at Kukaia gulch. At Laanohala gulch there is an unbridged chasm 20 feet long and 24 feet deep. At Kakaonui, Mr. Gere will recommend shifting the road a distance up the gulch. At Kaiwili gulch a spillway crossing must be replaced. At Aala gulch one bent of the bridge was carried away, the spillway crossing is out at Kukaia and the north abutment at Maulua gulch is laid up for repairs. A 72 foot bridge will have to be erected at Hanana gulch.

Mr. Gere says the most expensive job of repairing made necessary by the storm will be Waianuenue street in this city. He has not decided what recommendations he will make for this street. He leaves for Honolulu today by the Kinau and will report to Superintendent J. H. Boyd.

Koumty Ball.

Keen interest is being manifested in the preparations for the Koumty Ball or farmer's dance to be given by the Hilo Cotillion Club on Tuesday night, April 1st. An elaborate program is being devised, and particular attention will be given to the decorations which will be in every sense "royal." Prizes for the most original costumes will be awarded and no end of amusement is expected from the motley appearance of the gathering. Admission will be by cards to others than members of the Club.

Planters Meet.

A meeting of the planters of this Island was held yesterday in the hall in the new TRIBUNE building to elect delegates to the meeting of the Planters Association at Honolulu. Those chosen were Wm. Watt of Honokaa, J. A. Scott of Wainaku and C. M. Walton of Kau. Besides the election of delegates no other formal business was transacted. General plantation matters were discussed in an informal way. There were seventeen members present.

The Minstrel Show.

The prospect for a brilliant minstrel show by the members of Company D., improves with each rehearsal. These rehearsals are being held twice each week and soon dress rehearsals will be given. The costumes for the boys are now in the hands of the tailor and include some original and striking designs. The date for the show has not yet been decided upon. But when it is put on the boards the people of Hilo will witness the best home talent show given in this city since it came into existence.

Planters in Hilo.

Albert Horner of Kukuiahae, W. G. Walker of Ooaka, Wm. Pullar of Honolulu, James Gibb of Paahan, Geo. Ross of Hakalau, E. E. Olding of Kohala, H. H. Renton of Kohala, C. E. Hewitt of Kau, W. H. C. Campbell of Puna, and J. M. Ross of Hakalau were all at the city yesterday attending the meeting of the Planters' Association.

Demosthenes' Hit.

The banquet to the visiting Elks at Demosthenes Cafe last night was an affair that well may tickle the pride of all loyal Hiloites. The city is thousands of miles from the center of supplies, yet Demosthenes could not have done better by the guests who sat at Demosthenes' board.

A PRETTY DANCE.

Miss Ivy Richardson Entertains a Company at Reed's Bay.

Miss Ivy Richardson's residence at Reed's Bay had on its hula dress last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Alice Jones of Honolulu and Miss Belle Arrott of Pittsburgh who are spending a few weeks with Miss Richardson. From a distance the handsome dwelling looked as though it was on fire, so covered was it with masses of Chinese and Japanese lanterns. Torches illumined the yard and driveway, and long strings of Chinese lanterns swung from the corners of the house to neighboring trees, lighting up the waters of Reed's Bay in a manner that was fairy-like in its beauty.

Inside the house, the two front rooms had been cleared away for dancing and they were all that the most ardent worshiper of Terpsichore could wish for. To the dulcet strains of an Hawaiian quartette, men in black attire and handsomely dressed women floated dreamily through the pretty waltzes and catchy two-steps. A short half was called for luncheon, but some of the people were back dancing before the majority were half through their salads.

Miss Ivy Richardson, assisted by Mrs. Jules Richardson, Miss Arrott and Miss Jones did the receiving, making her many guests feel perfectly at home from the time they arrived until they left. A light luncheon was served about twelve o'clock which consisted of chicken salad, sandwiches, coffee etc. Miss Louisa Hapai, assisted by Mrs. Paul Bartels, Miss Lillioi Hapai, Miss Elvira Richardson and Mr. Edward Hapai, served the refreshments most charmingly and tended to make the luncheon one of the features of the evening.

The only disagreeable thing about such a delightful function is that it must come to a close, and like all other entertainments this charming little fete ended. Most of the guests left about one o'clock, and will always remember the dance as one of the most pleasant of Hilo's social features.
